

Berlinische Galerie, Treppenhalle, Foto: © Noshie

Temporary closure 7 February – 25 May 2023

LED lighting for the Berlinische Galerie

Following a successful 2022 with more than 162,000 visitors, Berlin's public art museum will close temporarily from 7 February. This will enable LED lighting to be installed in the interests of energy efficiency and sustainability. The conversion work has been organised by BIM Berliner Immobilienmanagement GmbH, the real estate company owned by Berlin that leases the property to the Berlinische Galerie.

From 26 May the museum will present three shows of contemporary work by Julius von Bismarck, Nasan Tur and Böhler & Orendt as well as the exhibition "Suddenly Wonderful: Visions for chunky 1970's architecture in West Berlin".

"The energy issue, especially opportunities to save energy and pursue sustainability, has been on our minds for years. A number of measures have been carried out already. We are now very pleased that the lighting for the exhibition rooms and other areas is going to be modernised." Dr Thomas Köhler, director

The museum website has many digital options to explore. The newsletter and social media will brief visitors in good time about the exhibitions scheduled to open in late May.

The museum shop in the foyer will remain open during this period; Café Dix will stay closed.

Press

Berlinische Galerie

Ulrike Andres

Head of Communication and Education

Tel +49 (0)30 78 902 829

andres@berlinischegalerie.de

Contact

Julia Lennemann

Referentin Kommunikation

Tel +49 (0)30 78 902 831

lennemann@berlinischegalerie.de

Press images

berlinischegalerie.de/en/press-release/temporary-closure

Onlinetickets

berlinischegalerie.de/en/tickets

Social Media

#berlinischegalerie

Berlinische Galerie

Landesmuseum für Moderne

Kunst, Fotografie und Architektur

Alte Jakobstraße 124–128

10969 Berlin

berlinischegalerie.de